WASHINGTON STATE LAW ALLOWS MEDICAL, PHILOSOPHICAL, AND RELIGIOUS EXEMPTIONS FROM VACCINATION

You may be notified by your child's school that certain vaccines are required for school attendance. It's important to know that in Washington State, exemptions may be filed for any or all required vaccines.

While vaccination policies and requirements are established at the "population level," the safe administration of vaccines at the "individual level" and the preservation of the basic human right to informed medical consent calls for access to vaccination exemptions.

Washington State law currently allows medical, philosophical, and religious exemptions from vaccination for school attendance.
